 The novel coronavirus (COVID 19) pandemic continues to spread rapidly across the globe including India. Due to complete lockdown during the first quarter of the financialyear 2021, the Company's operation remained adversely impacted. Crafting an adaptive, innovative and agile response to the pandemic, given its unpredictability and scale, has been the priority for Manipal Hospitals. We have been able to learn along the way, absorb inputs from India, abroad and from across sectors and incorporate those into our battle against Covid. I am extremely grateful to our entire team who have been front and center of our efforts and at it tirelessly for the last 15 months. I am proud of their contributions and the whole society owes a debt of gratitude to them.

How can India prepare for a possibility of a third wave?

Augmenting our infrastructure for managing the cases both within and outside of a hospital setting is our priority. Equally important is training as tively engaged in that. What would you like to convey to all the aspiring young doctors? The medical profession is a calling and there would be very few occupations that can be as satisfying. Putting patients' interest first and as the only consideration should be the response in any situation. The trust deficit that has crept in the doctor – patient relationship over the last couple of decades needs to

The healthcare fraternity rose to the occasion!

Dr. Harsh Mahajan, Founder and Chief Radiologist,

Mahajan Imaging, New Delhi

The entire medical fraternity is playing was able to consult a doctor thanks to tele-COVID-19 crises in India. What would vou like to say to them? I think the Indian medical and paramedical fraternity has outdone itself while fighting the war against COVID-19. Stories of doctors, nurses, and others putting their patients ahead of themselves have become commonplace – everyone rose to the occasion and helped overcome what is possibly one of the worst times our country has gone through. I salute and thank my friends and colleagues and congratulate them on helping us tide through the crisis. Let us not lose heart and keep the fight up – a third wave seems likely, and hence we must be ready to fight again.

What are your viewpoints on video consultations and tele-radiology being a part of patient care, especially during this pandemic? Video and tele-consultations have been the saving grace for dealing with the pandemic. In fact, Indian doctors living outside the country have also helped patients across the country. Almost everyone with access to internet a significant role in the ongoing consultations. Additionally, training of doctors using mass webinars became commonplace, leading to much better treatment outcomes. Teleradiology specifically helped provide rapid turnaround for patients who got Digital X-rays or CT scans done for COVID-19. Additionally, Artificial Intelligence algorithms also came to the fore with reports being created in almost real-time. What are your views on the way that the current vaccination drive has panned out in the country?

I think India has done a great job so far with almost 20% population having received at least one dose. That said, we still have a long way to go and the only way to vaccinate the entire population in time is to do one crore vaccinations per day. The new policies implemented by the Central Government should make the process of procuring and dispensing vaccines much easier for all stakeholders, including States and the private sector so as to reach the last mile.
