hours (he had even one of the key accused), the 19-year-old's uncle, morning, she would accompany her father in the school get dropped at the bus stop at the coaching centre. At 3.30 pm, on her way back, she was again taken to the school and was trying to save on the class, she would come home and study. She wanted to get a job and we encouraged her. We never made her do household chores. She understood that we were not well off and wanted to help us," the father says.

The central government job exam was her shot at that. "My children's education was my investment. I knew my daughter was semi-conscious. I brought her home on my bike. I didn't have enough money for hospital, I had to borrow Rs 10,000," he says.

The Haryana government later offered Rs 2 lakh as compensation, but the family has rejected it. "I don't want politicians to visit us or give us money. All I want is the perpetrators of this crime to be hanged," the mother says.
